

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid cease to function properly. It is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured part because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion. It will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, and from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble. Dr. Frank J. Miles, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 23 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, deafness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1.00. It contains neither opiate nor dangerous drugs.

The commission is also expected to take early action in the case of the alleged assessment of federal office-holders in San Francisco by the Democratic campaign committee.

Seventh District Republican Editors Banquet at Newton.

Spooner Library Building Opened at Lawrence Today.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Kingman Populists Discomfited Over Albright's Acquittal.

NEWTON, Oct. 10.—The Republican editors of the Seventh District Editorial association closed their meeting here last night with a banquet which was given them by the Commercial club.

The afternoon session was given up to the reading of papers by members of the association. Judge H. N. Lester of the Hutchinson World read a very meritorious paper on "Duty of Republican Editors to the Party." This question was discussed at length by the editors present at the meeting.

A paper was read from W. F. Hendry of the Nickerson Agency on "Need of County Organization," which was concisely and to the point. The discussion brought out the fact that the county organization is needed in the State.

Clark Conkling of the Lyons Republican read a paper entitled "The Last Two Weeks of the Campaign," which contained a number of good suggestions.

SPoonER LIBRARY DEDICATION.

It Takes Place at Lawrence with Addresses and a Banquet.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 10.—The dedication exercises of the new Spooner library building at the business and hotel took place today. The day began at 10 o'clock with the dedication address by Dr. Cyrus W. Northrup, president of Minnesota university, in University hall, after which the audience adjourned to the library building, where Hon. C. F. Scott, on behalf of the Spooner estate, made a formal dedication of the building to the board of regents and Chancellor F. H. Snow responded. At 2 o'clock in the assembly room of the new building, a banquet will be given the distinguished guests present.

Among those who responded to toasts at the banquet are the following: Eugene F. Ware, "Sentiments of Your Orator," President A. R. Taylor, of the State Normal school, "Books for the Pedagogue," President George T. Fairchild, of the State Agricultural college, "The Place and the Lesson," J. A. McNeeney, "The Breezy West," E. C. Little, "The Egyptian Alchemist," H. Van Brunt, the architect of the building, "A Home for Books," J. H. Atwood, "Sources of a Lawyer's Brief," Ewing Herbert, "The Young Crowd in Literature," Dr. C. E. Edwards, of the Kansas City "Journal," "The New South in Literature," President C. A. Schaffer, of the Iowa State university, "Libraries of Sister Universities," Noble Prentiss, "Value of Books to the Common People," Judge S. O. Thatcher, "Politics and Scholarship," B. W. Woodward, "From the Old to the New," Others who have been invited and are expected to respond to toasts are Hon. Webster Davis, mayor of Kansas City; Mrs. Mary E. Lense, Chancellor James H. Canfield, of Nebraska; President A. E. Colgrove, of Ottawa university.

Topeka People Built It.

The library building is a unique architectural work, modest yet imposing, ornamental edifice, pronounced characteristic is its utility. It is probably the best arranged and most convenient building ever constructed for a college library. It was paid for out of the funds donated by the uncle of Chancellor Snow, and in honor of the memory of the donor is named the Spooner Library. The cost was $15,000. It is built of blue limestone taken directly from the site. The trimmings are of Dakota red sandstone. On the west front there are three stories, on the east six stories.

In building with the exception of the book "stack" was constructed by Topeka firms and the excellence of the construction reflects the greatest credit on the contractors of the Capital city. Fellows & Van Sant were the contractors for the work, and they and the state may well be proud of the results. The sub-contractors, all of Topeka, were Cutbert & Sargent, masonry and cut stone; Jonathan Thomas, woodwork; John Hewitt, painting; Lewis Van Dure, roof and cornice work. The interior finish is of brown ash, piano polish. The floors are triple laid, with decorative between, and a wax finished surface. The roof is of copper tiling.

KANSAS GRAND LODGE L. O. O. F.

It Has a Wrangle at Once Over the DeBoisier Assessment.

WICHITA, Oct. 10.—The grand lodge of Kansas, L. O. O. F., convened here in its thirty-second annual session. The meeting promises to be made especially interesting by the wrangle of the DeBoisier orphans home assessment. The representatives of twenty-six lodges were refused admission to the grand lodge on account of the insubordination of their lodges in this matter.

A committee was appointed to try to unravel the knotty problem. Grand Master Campbell reported having instructed nine subordinate lodges during this year in office and twenty Robekan lodges. Six lodges have surrendered their charters.

Grand Secretary Bright's report shows a total membership in the order June 30 last of 23,230, a net increase during the year of 247. The total amount paid out for relief was $42,819.10.

KINGMAN POPULISTS CHAGRINED.

The Dismissal of Editor Albright Puts Them in a Reticent Position.

KINGMAN, Oct. 10.—The Populists of this county are somewhat discomfited over the outcome of the case of Editor Albright. Albright was arrested at the instigation of the Populists for stealing the Abbie Matthews letter, it was alleged, and the dismissal of the latter puts them in a reticent position.

The state desired to dismiss the case and so stated in motion for dismissal that it would be impossible to get a jury of twelve men in Kingman county to try the case, as Albright had prejudiced the minds of the people in his favor, by publications of the same in his paper.

The court discharged Mr. Albright and taxed the costs up to the complaining witness W. J. Brandon, for the reason that the case was instituted without any probable cause.

DONIPHAN COUNTY WINS.

Suit Against It By St. Joseph & Grand Island Decided in Its Favor.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 10.—Col. Gillpatrick was notified by telegraph today that the United States court of appeals at St. Paul had decided the case of the St. Paul & Grand Island railway against the sheriff of Doniphon county in favor of the county. The action was to restrain the collection of taxes on the St. Joseph bridge, which amounts to $10,000 a year to the county.

The suit has been in the courts since 1892, and was argued before the court of appeals by Col. Gillpatrick for the county in June last. The case is of great interest to the lawyers, because the supreme court of Missouri holds the Kansas City bridge is not taxable.

Child Burned to Death.

OLATHE, Oct. 10.—Jennie, a 2-year-old daughter of Conductor Albert Lamaster of the Missouri Pacific railroad, was burned to death this morning at a farm house twelve miles south of this city, where Lamaster's children live with their grandmother. The child was playing with the fire in the kitchen stove when its clothes caught fire and the body of the infant was burned into a crisp before help arrived.

Wilson Dry Goods Company Fails.

WICHITA, Oct. 10.—A sign upon the door announces that the Wilson Dry Goods company had been placed in the hands of a receiver. It is set forth in the petition filed in the court that W. J. Wilson, as manager of the company, has made indiscreet purchases, involving the company in debt beyond its ability to pay, and has conducted the affairs of the company in an extravagant manner.

READING, Oct. 10.—While Morris Newman, a farmer living near here, was out hunting, the gun which he was carrying was accidentally discharged, sending the entire charge into his right arm just below the shoulder, which necessitated the amputation of the limb at the shoulder. Dr. Morrison, home physician, and Dr. Jacobs of Emporia, performed the operation.

FOREIGN MISSION WORK.

Annual Meeting of the American Board is Held at Madison, Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10.—The American board of commissioners for foreign missions opened its annual meeting here this afternoon at the Congregational church. About one thousand delegates are now in the city and more will come by later trains. President C. K. Adams, of the State university, delivered the address of welcome. Dr. Richard D. Webb, D.D., I. D. of Brooklyn, made response.

The first business was the annual survey of the work of the board for the year ended August 31, 1894, shown in the reports of the treasurer and foreign and home secretaries.

The report of the treasurer, Langdon S. Ward, shows expenditures during 1894 to have been $734,051, of which $678,168 was for cost of missions.

The indebtedness which August 31, 1893, was $88,318, has increased $27,918 to $116,237.

The itemized cost of missions is: West Central Africa, $19,000; Central Africa, $8,425; Zulul, $27,927; European Turkey, $31,951; western Turkey, $97,693; central Turkey, $31,474; eastern Turkey, $54,908; Malabar, $54,121; Madras, $54,202; Ceylon, $18,752; Foo Chow, $17,542; south China, $10,119; north China, $20,348; Siam, $13,502; Japan, $93,888; Sandwich islands, $5,377; Micronesia, $38,495; Mexico, $17,560; Spain, $12,585; Austria, $11,717.

The receipts during the year were: Donations, $483,108; legacies, $183,768; from the legacy of Asa Otis, $30,052; interest on gifts, $1,000; total, $707,932.

The summary for 1894 shows the number of missions among unevangelized nations to be twenty; stations, 109; without stations, 1,107 places for stated preaching, 1,429; average congregations, 29,151; native laborers employed, 571; native laborers, $8,710; total, $8,710; number of churches, 421; church members, 40,187; added during the year, 9,055. The whole number under instruction in the educational department is 50,400. Native contributions of money amounted to $39,143.

Dr. C. H. Daniels of Boston, secretary of the home department, reported that forty-four new missionaries have been sent to the field during the year of whom thirty-one were men including three physicians and one printer; eleven were the wives of missionaries and twenty single ladies, including one physician. Twenty-three missionaries, home on furlough, have returned to their fields. The prudential committee, by authority of the last annual meeting, has adopted a rule giving female delegates equal voice and vote with the men on questions touching their own work.

STILL A-TOURING.

Governor McKinley is Traveling Through Illinois Today.

Makes Speeches at Thirteen Towns on the Route.

AT SPRINGFIELD.

Crowds Are Pouring Into the Capital to Hear Him.

An Aggrieved Workman Asks Him How to Get His Pay.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 10.—The genial warmth of a typical autumnal day came in very agreeable contrast with the asperities of the Lake Superior gales which surrounded McKinley in the north with a meteorologic chill and the whole country side of the Sucker state docked to the stations along the line of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific road to hear Ohio's governor talk about protection.

After listening for several hours during the night in the Chicago railroad yards to soothing lullabies of locomotive whistles Governor McKinley left that city at 6 o'clock on a special train, accompanied by Mr. John H. Tanner, chairman of the Republican state committee, Mr. W. W. Tracy, president of the National League of Republican clubs, Mr. Henry Wulff, candidate for secretary of state, Mr. George S. Williams, of Chicago, who is a possible candidate for United States senator, Mr. A. B. Humphrey, secretary of the National League of Republican clubs, and several other prominent party men. Thirteen speeches were made during the morning, at Joliet, Morris, Seneca, Ottawa, Uden, LaSalle, Peoria, Springfield, Bureau Junction, Henry, Spartan, Chillicothe and Peoria.

At all of these there were cheering crowds and waving flags and respectful audiences. At Ottawa Gov. McKinley spoke with special reference to the effect of a protective tariff upon the wages of railroad employees. "Every occupation in this country is related to every other and each for the most part, is dependent on the other. If the iron and steel workers of the country are employed, the iron and coal miners are employed. If building trades are employed the lumbermen are employed. With these conditions, the products of agriculture find a steady and profitable home market.

"We cannot get along without each other. That industrial policy which promotes the prosperity of the greatest number of our people will bring the best rewards to all of our people in whatever occupation they may be engaged."

At Bureau Junction some excited individual interrupted the governor by complaining of a reduction of his wages as a laborer on the government improvement on the Hennepin canal, and he was so persistent as to become odious. McKinley replied to him by saying: "I know nothing about your local controversy, but if it is with the government of the United States you should go to that. That is now controlled by the Democratic party, and I do not represent that party, nor I in United States councils or confidence."

Peoria gave McKinley an ovation. He was met at the depot by a number of clubs and bands and was escorted to the tabernacle where he addressed an audience of several thousand. The town was profusely decorated and pictures of McKinley were hung in many windows along the line of march. At 2:30 the trip to Springfield was resumed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 10.—The capital city of Illinois today is in holiday attire in honor of the reception to be given Hon. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, this afternoon. Representative hall has been elegantly decorated for the edification of the Illinois State Republican league which is holding its fourth annual convention today. Incoming trains have brought in thousands of people who want to see and hear McKinley.

TEMPERANCE PARADE.

Fifteen Thousand People Take Part in a Big Demonstration in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The birth of Father Matthew, the apostle of temperance, was celebrated today by the temperance people of all creeds and denominations by a parade, in which 15,000 people participated. The chief marshal, Col. A. J. Burbank, massed his forces on the lake front this afternoon and a brilliant spectacle the park presented. In the first division were the gay uniforms of the Catholic orders.

Toward the north were the societies connected with Protestant churches. At Jackson street crossing lines of school children from public, parochial and private schools. The Good Templars and similar organizations, with citizens on foot and in carriages, made the fourth division. The procession moved through the business portion of the city and was reviewed by Governor Altgeld, Mayor Hopkins and other notables.

The parade was preliminary to a mass meeting at the Auditorium with Bishop Watson of Columbus, Ohio as chief orator.

The committee having the mass meeting in charge received the following reply from Manager Sattoli to a letter complimenting his stand for temperance and inviting him to be present:

"I am pleased to hear that my recent decision has produced so happy an effect. It is a matter of deep regret that so many Catholics are engaged in the traffic which by its abuses is the cause of so much harm to their fellow man and scandal to the non-Catholic brethren. Fondly trusting that this abuse may be mitigated, if not obliterated and this cause of reproach may be removed from the Catholics of America, I remain yours very sincerely in Christ."

"FRANCIS, ARCHBISHOP SATTOLI, 'Delegate Apostolic.'"

The Merchants' National bank will close at 12 o'clock tomorrow for the funeral of Dr. Alexander, who was one of the directors.

A REMARKABLE PONY.

An Affectionate Animal That Shows Almost Human Intelligence.

John C. Krantz of Baltimore is the owner of a Western pony in which he takes a great deal of pride. The horse is named Dick and is one of those pieces of horse flesh which seem to have almost human understanding. Dick is small enough to go through the small door cut in the stable door which is intended for the entrance of a man. He prefers to enter by the smaller door and sometimes tries to take the carriage to which he is harnessed in with him. This, it is needless to say, results in failure. He considers himself above the common herd and with good reason.

He will not have his harness put on in the stable, but must be taken into the office for that purpose. He then consents to be led out to be hitched to the carriage. Dick is very fond of cream peppermint drops; the ordinary lozenges he will not touch. In order to get these at the end of each drive he is taken to one of Mr. Krantz's stores. His driver then goes inside for the candies. If he wishes to do so Dick will calmly walk across the pavement and enter the door, much to the amusement of the on-lookers and the edification of the children. The sweetmeats are given to the animal and he backs out.

He always gazes after his master with a look of inquiry in his eyes, and puts his fore feet on the pavement when Mr. Krantz leaves the carriage. Mr. Krantz thinks his pet can be taught to do almost anything, and if he had the time would try to educate Dick himself. The horse is very fond of his master, and on all occasions shows this affection. There is nothing too good for Dick and he evidently deserves it.

YOUNG, BUT WISE.

What a Little French Girl Saw at a Ball to Amuse Her.

The little French girl stood at my elbow while I wrote. She was leaning on the window sill, one little hand supporting her black head. Far across the lawn she could hear the rise and fall of music and the sound of laughter and of tripping feet. I was very lonely. It wasn't complimentary to the little French girl, but the little French girl did not care for dancing and I did. Suddenly she gave a little laugh.

"Why are you giggling?" I asked rather crossly.

"Because this world amuses me," she murmured.

A very good reason to be sure. But when the world amused me I never laughed. Patience is more than clever for ten years, and more bizarre in her notions than clever, so I asked: "Why does it amuse you?"

"Well, par example, is it not bet to dance, to dance always one way, round and round with no aim, to get nowhere, only to go round, to twirl?"

"Yes; very stupid."

"And is it not bet to stay up till 12 when one's bed is ready at 8 and one's eyes sleep?" And is it not stupid to wear a décolleté gown and long gloves when one's arms are prettier than one's neck? This world amuses!" And she laughed softly to herself, and I could not help thinking what she said was true, and I no longer envied the matrynnakers, but thought anyone would envy me my solitude a deus and my intellectual companion. Some moods need only a straw to balance them.

A Small Gathering of Friends Attend the Performance of the Last Rites.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—A small gathering of loving friends and a few words of impressive import from the lips of a life long companion and co-worker, marked the simple rites over the body of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes at Kings chapel this noon.

At 12 o'clock the procession bearing the body of the deceased poet filed into the church with Mr. Edward Everett Hale at its head.

Upon the casket rested a laurel wreath which nearly covered it. The Bohemian club of San Francisco sent a large basket of white crystalline flowers with maiden hair form. The pall-bearers were all members of the family.
